Donation keeps meals flowing

The Chinchilla Meals on Wheels Association received an early Christmas present this week, when Keating Brothers Hardware presented the local group with a cheque for $5000.

Keating Bros manager Joe Calleja said it was great to contribute to the elderly.

"It's one area that doesn't get a lot of focus," he said.

"We wanted the money to stay locally and we heard Meals on Wheels were looking for contributions and we were happy to help."

He said the $5000 donation was sourced through the Danks Trust's Project 150.

It was a joint celebration by the Danks Trust and John Danks & Son to acknowledge its 150th trading year.

"We were one of the best 150 stores of the year," Mr Calleja said.

Meanwhile, Chinchilla Meals on Wheels Association president Geoff Skewis said the funding was greatly appreciated.

"This donation will provide new stainless steel cupboards for the Meals on Wheels kitchen which is required by law in the health system."
